Allegro

The first system of musical notation for the piano accompaniment. It consists of a grand staff with a treble and bass clef. The key signature is one flat (B-flat major or D minor). The time signature is 3/4. The tempo is marked 'Allegro'. The first measure is marked 'ff' (fortissimo). The notation includes a series of eighth and sixteenth notes in the bass line, with rests in the treble line. The system ends with a double bar line.

The second system of musical notation, continuing the piano accompaniment. It follows the same grand staff and key signature as the first system. The notation continues with eighth and sixteenth notes in the bass line and rests in the treble line. The system ends with a double bar line.

The third system of musical notation. The treble line now contains a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, marked with a minus sign (-) above it. The bass line continues with eighth and sixteenth notes. The system ends with a double bar line.

The fourth system of musical notation. The treble line continues with a melodic line, marked with a minus sign (-) above it. The bass line continues with eighth and sixteenth notes. The system ends with a double bar line.

The fifth system of musical notation. The treble line continues with a melodic line, marked with a minus sign (-) above it. The bass line continues with eighth and sixteenth notes. The system ends with a double bar line.

The sixth system of musical notation. The treble line continues with a melodic line, marked with a minus sign (-) above it. The bass line continues with eighth and sixteenth notes. The system ends with a double bar line.
